

UNIVERSITÄTSMEDIZIN BERLIN

CHARITÉ - MEDICAL UNIVERSITY BERLIN EUROPE'S LARGEST UNIVERSITY CLINIC

Global. Market Leader. State of the Art.

A Comprehensive World of Medicine

Charité Universitätsmedizin Berlin - has a total of 3,500 beds and 15,000 employees in over 80 medical departments and institutes. Each specialist and unit is highly qualified in their own right. The Medical Faculties of the renowned Humboldt University of Berlin and the Free University of Berlin, have merged to represent and unify Diagnosis and Treatment with Research and Education, all under one roof.

Life-Sciences. Research. Education.

Top Class Medical Care for the Present and the Future

Medical Research and the application of its findings, are the heartbeat of the Charité Universitätsmedizin Berlin. Around 55 affiliated scientific institutes are inter-connected - among which are those of the calibre of the famous Max-Planck Institute for Infectious Biology, the Robert-Koch Institute and the Charité Institute of Micro-Biology and Virology - assuring our patient's ongoing first-class medical care, even in the future.

Excellence. Focused. Inter-disciplinary.

Medical Competence without Comparison

There are so many renowned physicians, distinguished specialists and eminent experts, all working together at the Charité Universitätsmedizin, a situation which in itself is unique in Europe. The technical medical appliances and equipment, the inter-disciplinary co-operation, the holistic approach to medicine, team-work and of course, the expertise and top qualifications of the consultants and professors, all go to make for a first-class healthcare supply of high quality.

Heartfelt. Competent. Thoughtful.

An International Charité Team at your Service

Everything at the Charité revolves around the health and well-being of our patients. Personal consultations and information that is easy-to-understand, are as vital to us as individual patient care and medical attention. Our international medical team, comprising of doctors, surgeons, nurses, caring personnel and paramedics are mindful of respecting the inter-cultural customs and religious confessions of foreign patients.

Administration. Cost Efficient. Service Oriented.
